

Celtic Folk Punk from Wales

No Murder No Moustache fuses anti-establishment folk punk with celtic-inspired acoustic sounds.

You can expect bilingual songs about bad governments, anti-facism, coming together to fight injustice, mental health struggles, people who died too young, and retrospective terrible life decisions. This is matched with songs about video games, being intimidated by teenagers at the skate park, drinking beer, and trying not to be a poser.

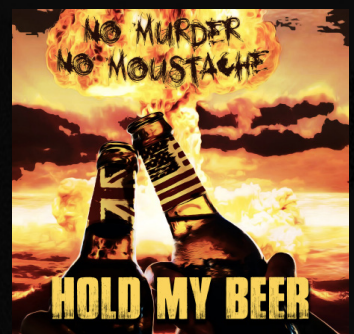

On record, No Murder No Moustache uses a plethora of instruments and guest backing vocalists. At live shows No Murder No Moustache ranges from lone acoustic guitar and vocal, to multi-sample triggering, building up a sonic experience that goes beyond an angry man with a guitar, whilst maintaining the raw authenticity and emotion that is apparent in each song.

Booking / Press

nomurnomo@gmail.com

smashmouserecords@gmail.com

Latest releases

Web: www.NoMurderNoMo.co.uk

Links: <http://smarturl.it/nmnm>

'Hold My Beer' Track of the year 2020 - HRH PUNK RADIO

'You'll be singing along to this as you protest the end of the world' - PERSONAL PUNK

'A really unique listen with mesmerising acoustics' - ORIGINAL ROCK

'These tracks would pair well with a pitcher of mead' - AEA FANZINE